SCORPIO

This is a potentially transformative time for you. You may feel particularly positive; but if you feel the opposite, take this as the motivation to make changes in your life. Be prepared to embrace a fresh agreement around the Scorpio New Moon on November 8th; you may simply see yourself or someone close in a new light. Jupiter in your money box should help rejuvenate your finances.

THE SCOPE - NOVEMBER

ARIES

A shared area, such as your home, finances, work or duties, will command your time and energy over the next two months – perhaps more than usual. That said, you could make great progress and forge truly fortunate relationships, so aim to collaborate. Be practical above all else, but also prepared to try something new. Singles: love could strike when you least expect it!

TAURUS

The focus over the next two months will largely be on someone close. If your love life has been lack-lustre, prepare for things to change mid-November or mid-December at the latest. Singles: if you'd like to make a commitment, look for a partner, as a jovial, fun-loving and upbeat character may enter your life unexpectedly. Couples will enjoy spicing up your love life in new ways.

GEMINI

Working Twins will be so busy, it's vital that you put a solid schedule in place, or you could be run off your feet! A fresh routine or work contract may begin around the New Moon on December 7th. Singles may be surprised by the attention you gain, and by the potential for a revitalising relationship. Ensure decisions you make at this time are clear and not based on assumptions.

CANCER

Jupiter will put the spotlight firmly on the creative and enjoyable aspects of your life. If you've been awaiting news of the pitter patter of little feet, this may well arrive during this phase! The Cancerian Full Moon on December 23 will be a pivotal one, marking a fresh daily routine or work commitment: and Christmas celebrations this year may include many reasons to celebrate.

LEO

The next two months will present you with a clearer idea of your priorities in life. While some developments will stimulate your romantic and artistic side; others will make financial choices super clear. By the end of November, a fresh understanding of someone – and of your own abilities will arise. You'll appreciate the chance to focus on your home life and family dynamics.

VIRGO

Your lust for life will take you into new territory over the next two months. A holiday, trip or simply the chance to enjoy your own neighbourhood more will fuel your activities and ventures. A group, organisation or friend may be instrumental in broadening your horizons. The New Moon on December 7th could bring a refreshing contract, agreement or relationship your way.

LIBRA

Your love life will gain traction; December may well be a month to remember as passions could soar. While romance will trigger much of the passionate atmosphere in December, it'll be vital to avoid tempers and tantrums at this time, too. Your career and status are due an overhaul; take the initiative if you wish to make changes in these areas as you could make great progress.

SAGITTARIUS

Jupiter, the planet astrologers associate with abundance, will enter your sign just after the Scorpio New Moon on November 8, suggesting the next two months could bring a great deal of change and progress your way. However, you must guard against losing a sense of proportion. You may be prone to overestimate your circumstances, so ensure you're practical above all else.

CAPRICORN

Travel, broadening your social circle and networking will all appeal to you. You'll appreciate the opportunity to flap your wings a little and to experience new ideas. Some beautiful and meaningful meetings and developments towards the end of November will raise your spirits. Christmas time will be the chance to re-set your compass and to change your routine so it suits you better.

AQUARIUS

Jupiter in your career zone will put the spotlight on your work and status. You will appreciate the opportunity to broaden your knowledge base and potentially also to step to a new level at work. There is a health-orientated aspect to developments towards the end of November; ideal for boosting your wellbeing before the overconsumption of the festive season begins.

PISCES

Key decisions to do with relationships, travel and study will take some of your focus as you contemplate plans for embracing new ventures in 2019. For the remainder of this year, you'll appreciate the opportunity to discuss your objectives with those they concern. A change in your values or in the circumstances of someone you share resources with may dictate your actions.
